FILE

1 restitution, disgorgement of ill-gotten gains, and other equitable

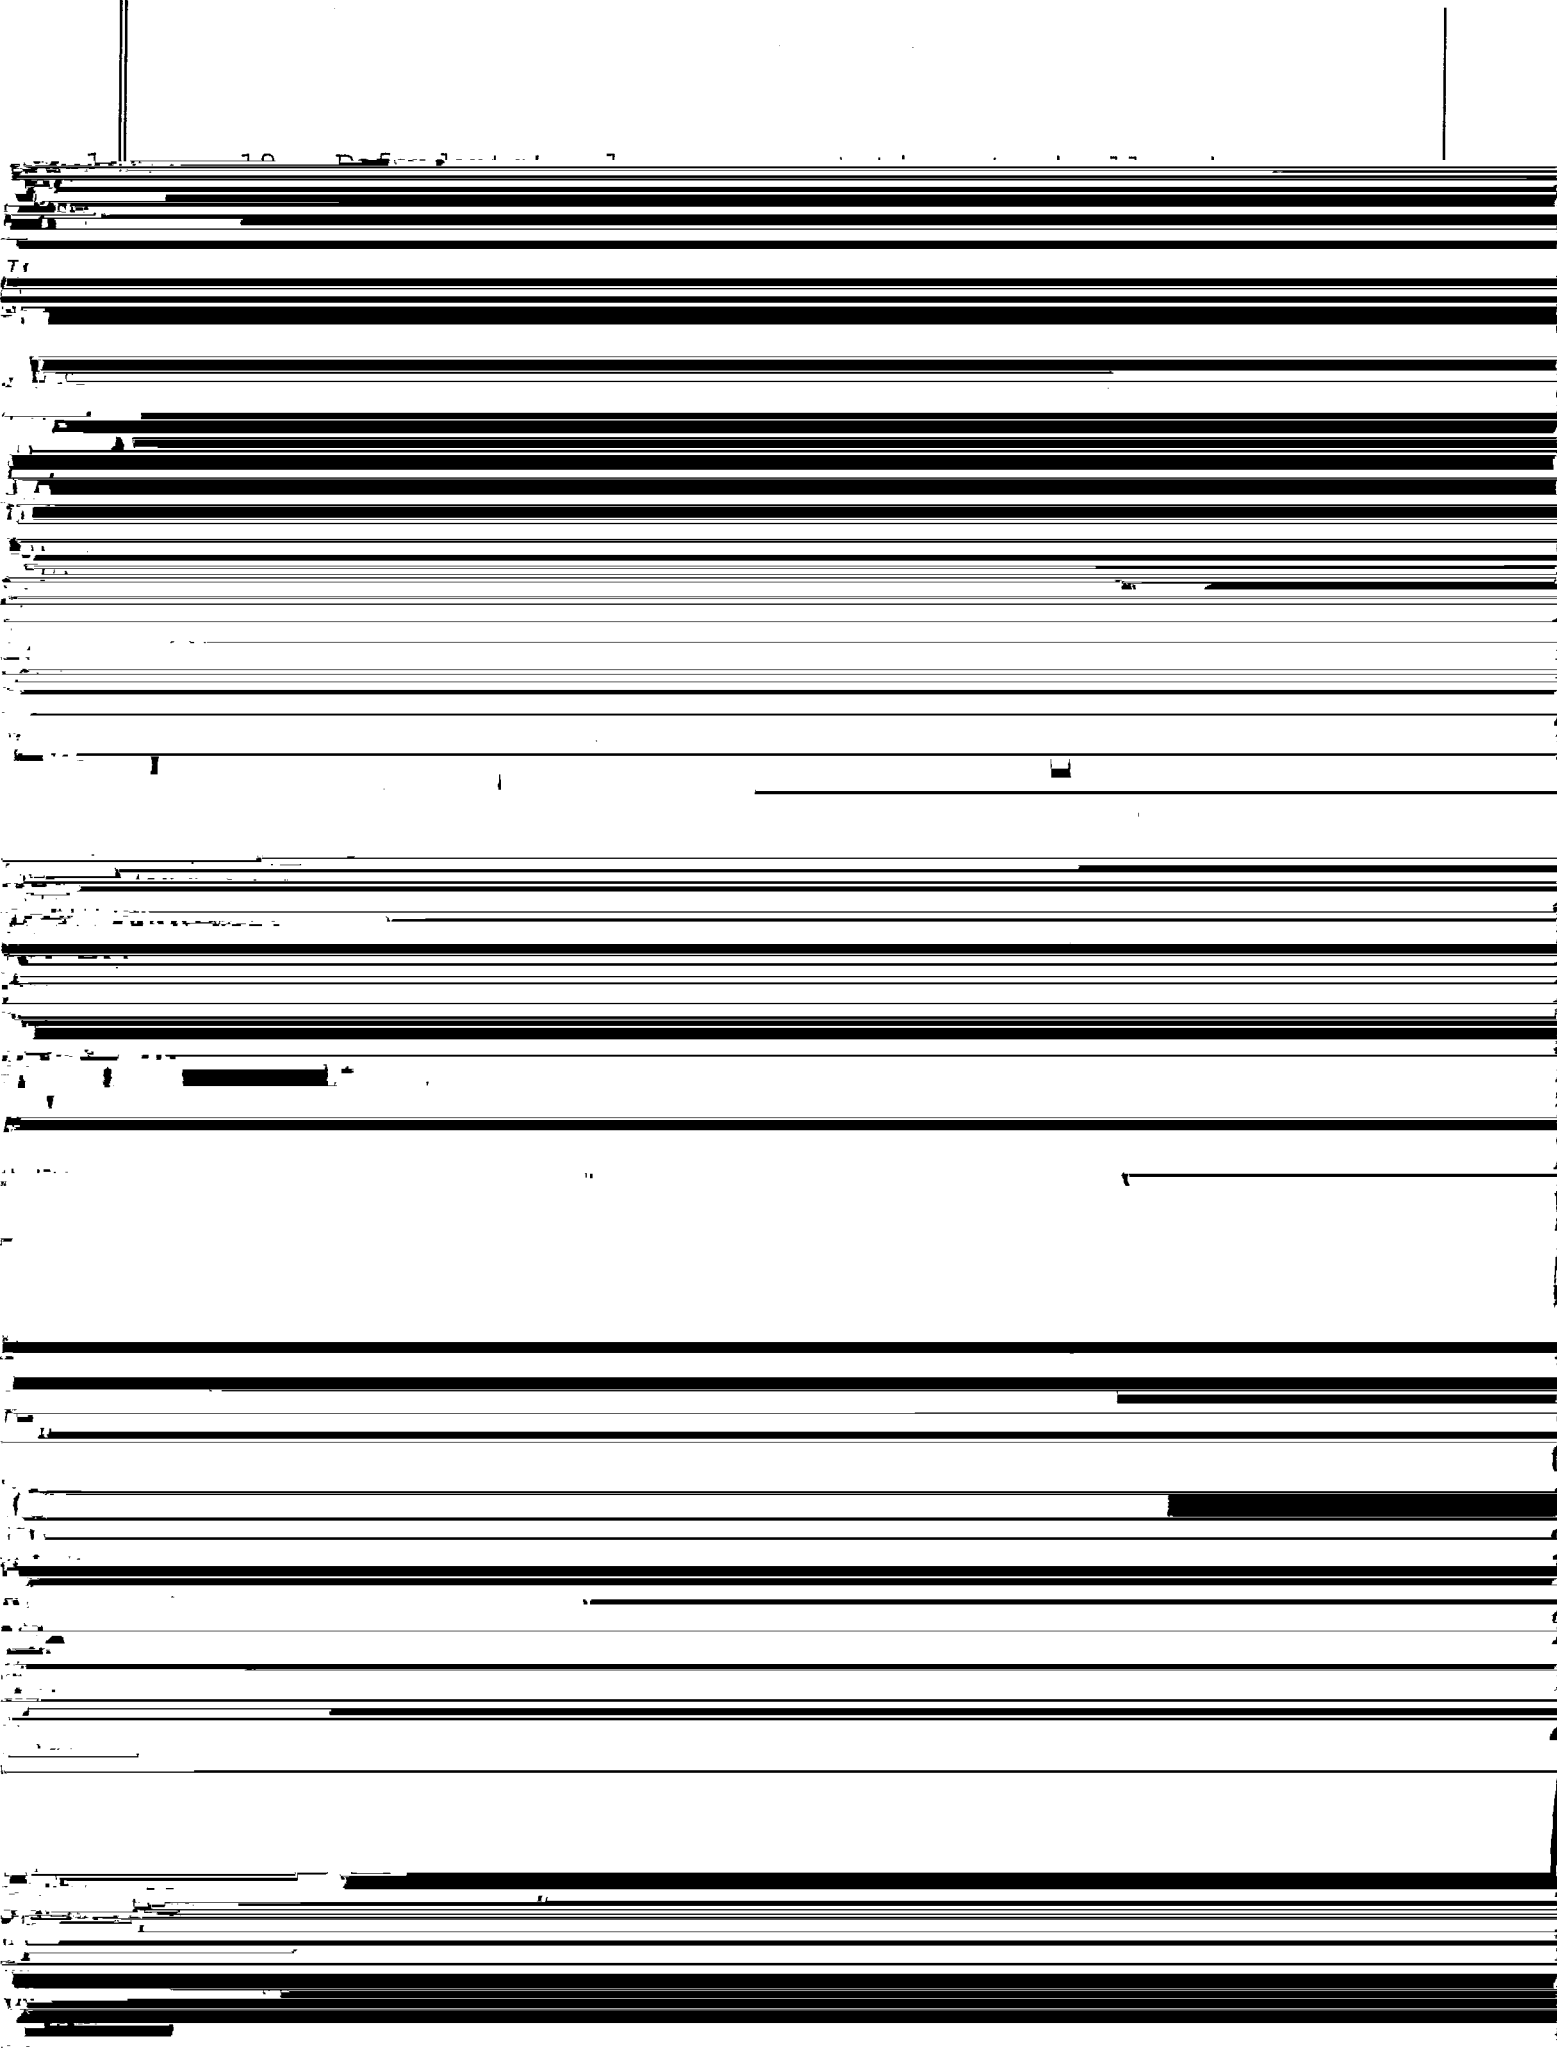

2 relief against Defendant. 5

1 14321 Bonelli St., City of Industry, California 91746, as its
2 principal place of business since at least 2003. At all times

1 that consumers can enroll in this payment plan without a contract
2 or credit check requiring a social security number.

3 15. When consumers call to order the system, Defendants'
4 sales representatives repeat the representations in the
5 advertisements: upon enrolling in the payment plan, consumers
6 will receive a full featured computer system including CPU

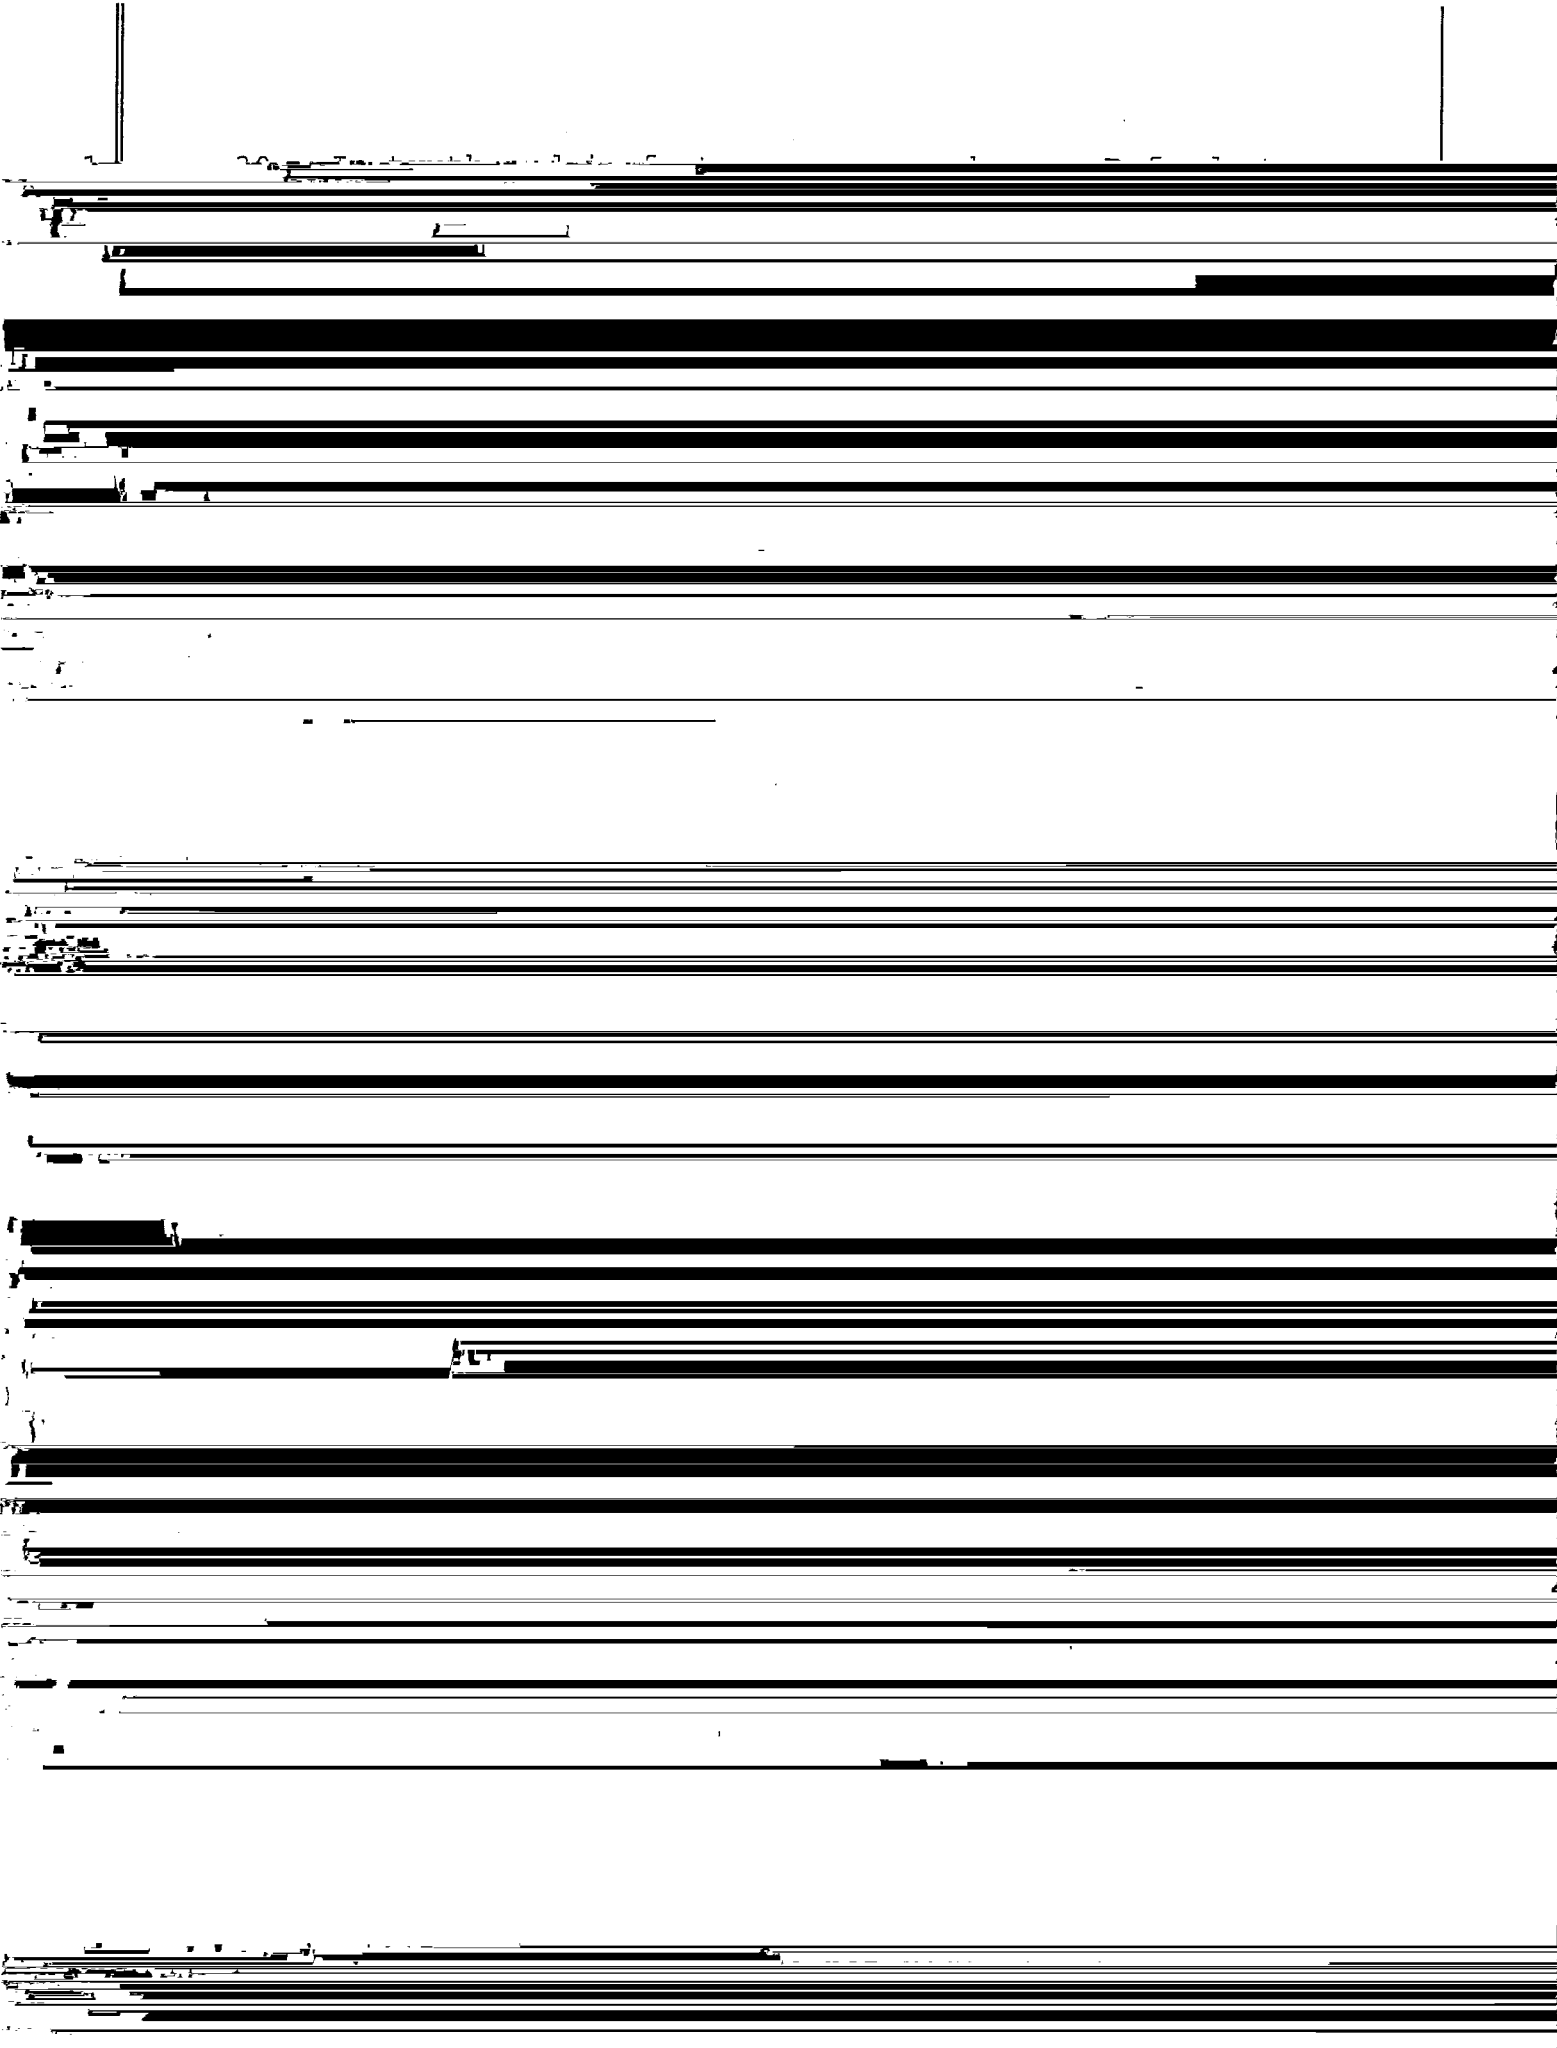

1 monitor; after consumers send the third money order payment,
2 Defendants will ship the CPU.

3 23. Most consumers, upon learning of these previously
4 undisclosed terms, lose all confidence in Defendants, cancel their 5 orders and demand a refund of the money paid for the first

1 the products. Consumers must pay the return shipping fees
2 themselves; Defendants do not reimburse these costs.

3 VIOLATIONS OF SECTION 5 OF THE FTC ACT

4 COUNT I

1 the FTC Act. The Court, in the exercise of its equitable
2 jurisdiction, may award other ancillary relief, including but not
3 limited to, rescission of contracts and restitution, and the
4 disgorgement of ill-gotten gains, to prevent and remedy injury
5 caused by Defendants' law violations.

1 5. Order any further relief that the Court deems
2 appropriate.
