

The content of the amended electronic version of the Appeal Brief is otherwise identical to that of the Reply Brief filed on July 2, 2004, although space and page breaks have changed slightly due to formatting issues. The corresponding exhibits and transcripts are contained in the record. Only designated portions of the depositions have been admitted into the record and cited in the brief, although the images consist of the full deposition transcripts. With the exception of the correction of the errata noted on the errata sheet, the amended electronic version of the Appeal Brief adds no new material.

Respectfully submitted,
