II. Description of the Proposed Divestiture

In its Complaint, the FTC alleges that the effects of Cemex's acquisition of RMC may be to substantially lessen competition and tend to create a monopoly in the manufacture and sale of ready mix concrete in Tucson, Arizona in violation of Section 7 of the Clayton Act, as amended, 15 U.S.C. § 18, and Section 5 of the FTC Act, as amended, 15 U.S.C. § 45. Complaint ¶ 16. Cemex agreed to resolve the FTC's objections to the consummation of the Acquisition by entering into an Agreement Containing Consent Orders, in which it committed to divest the Ready Mix Concrete Divestiture Assets to a firm approved by the FTC within six months of the Acquisition Date.

Cemex hereby proposes to divest the Ready Mix Concrete Divestiture

Assets to CPC in accordance with the Asset Purchase Agreement, which contains a complete description of the assets to be divested.<sup>4</sup> As more fully described in

Ш.	An Analysis of How the Divestiture Would Affect Competition in the Relevant Market and Achieve the Remedial Purposes of the Decision and Order

A. Effects on the Relevant Market

The proposed divestiture will not adversely affect competition in the sale of ready mix concrete in Tucson, Arizona because, upon consummation of the sale of the Ready Mix Concrete Divestiture Assets to CPC, there will be the exact same number of competitors that existed prior to Cemex's acquisition of RMC According to the Complaint, before the proposed transaction, three firms supplied ready mix concrete in Tucson, Arizona. See Complaint, ¶ 11. By transferring RMC's

Tucson-area operations to CPC, the proposed divestiture will ensure that at least three firms will continue to supply ready mix concrete in the Tucson area. CPC will simply replace RMC and the competitive environment that evicted animately and the competitive environment that evicted animately.

	CPC to enhance output of the Ready Mix Concrete Divestiture Assets. CPC's history of success in the ready mix concrete industry as well as its general familiarity with the Tucson ready mix concrete marketplace will enable it to be a highly effective competitor from the moment it acquires the Ready Mix Concrete Divestiture Assets.
	B. Achieving the Remedial Purposes of the Order
	The remedial purposes of the Order are: (i) "to ensure the[] continued
