c. All rights to seek judicial review or otherwise to challenge or contest the validity of the order entered pursuant to this agreement.

6. This agreement shall not become part of the public record of the proceeding unless and until it is accepted by the Commission. If this agreement is accepted by the Commission, it, together with the draft complaint, will be placed on the public record for a period of thirty (30) days and information about it publicly released. The Commission thereafter may either withdraw its acceptance of this agreement and so notify proposed respondents, in which event it will take such action as it may consider appropriate, or issue and serve its complaint (in such form as the circumstances may require) and decision in disposition of the proceeding.

7. This agreement is for settlement purposes only and does not constitute an admission by proposed respondents that the law has been violated as alleged in the draft complaint, or that the facts as alleged in the draft complaint, other than the jurisdictional facts, are true.

8. This agreement contemplates that, if it is accepted by the Commission, and if such acceptance is not subsequently withdrawn by the Commission pursuant to the provisions of Section 2.34 of the Commission's Rules, the Commission may, without further notice to proposed respondents, (1) issue its complaint corresponding in form and substance with the attached draft complaint and its decision containing the following order in disposition of the proceeding, and (2) make information about it public. Proposed respondents waive any right they may have to any other manner of service. The complaint may be used in construing the terms of the order. No agreement, understanding, representation, or interpretation not contained in the order or in the agreement may be used to vary or contradict the terms of the order.

9. Proposed respondents have read the draft complaint and consent order. They understand that they may be liable for civil penalties in the amount provided by law and other appropriate relief for each violation of the order after it becomes final.

Dear Xenadrine EFX Reseller or Distributor,

This letter is to inform you that Cytodyne, LLC recently settled a dispute with the Federal Trade Commission (“FTC”) regarding its advertising for Xenadrine EFX. Among other things, the settlement requires us to instruct resellers and distributors to stop using advertising or promotional materials that make any of the representations prohibited by the settlement. We will terminate all sales to resellers or distributors that make any of these prohibited representations.

The FTC complaint alleges that Cytodyne, LLC engaged in deceptive advertising of Xenadrine EFX, and the FTC order imposes various requirements on us in connection with its past and future advertising of these and other products.

The complaint alleges that these claims were false and that the information on which we relied in making these claims was not competent and reliable scientific evidence, as required by which we relied in making the

The FTC order also requires us to monitor resellers' and distributors' advertisements and promotional materials and terminate all sales to resellers and distributors making prohibited claims, whether expressly or by implication, for our products.
