Counsel for Hynix Semiconductor, Inc.

David M. Sh...

Senior Vice President, General Counsel

Pursuant to 16 C.F.R. § 3.52(j), NVIDIA Corporation, Micron Technology, Inc., Samsung Electronics Corporation, Ltd., and Hynix Semiconductor, Inc. (“Amici”) respectfully

Amici are global technology leaders. One Amicus, NVIDIA, manufactures and sells products (graphics processing units) that are designed to use, or interface with, JEDEC-compliant dynamic random access memory (“DRAM”) including single data rate and dual data rate charge monopolistic rates to use the standard, all to the detriment of direct participants in the standard, others in the industry, and consumers.

Determined that Dombus Inc. ("Dombus") engaged in bad faith and deceptive conduct in devices that use or interface with such DRAMs; and (b) bar such enforcement in the United States and overseas to the extent that such overseas enforcement would reach imports from, or exports to, the United States.

WHEREFORE, Amici respectfully request that the Commission grant their joint motion leave to file the attached amici curiae brief.

Dated: September 15, 2006

Respectfully submitted,

Jared Bobrow
