AAI's position is consistent with those of the other amici curiae in this matter. See, e.g., Amicus Curiae Brief of JEDEC Solid State Technology Association ("JEDEC Brief") at 4-7 ("JEDEC's goal is to promulgate open standards [JEDEC's] policies and practices set the foundation for addressing the remedy As a result, the 'reasonable royalty' for Rambus's patent, under the circumstances of this case, is a zero royalty on use in JEDEC-compliant

Semiconductor, Inc. ("Broadcom Brief") at 6-7 ("Because Rambus concealed its patent rights from JEDEC, JEDEC and its members believed at the time the standards were being formulated and adopted that the standards did not implicate any proprietary technologies and thus would be royalty-free. . . . [T]he Commission should impose a remedy that likewise does not require anyone_implementing the IEDEC SDR AM standards to license the Rambus IEDEC Patents

a concomitant and enforceable license-free, royalty-free or low-royalty commitment from the patentee." AAI Brief at 2-3.

This position is also consistent with those of JEDEC and industry members. JEDEC Brief at 6-9 ("The Commission's own findings in this case are the most powerful evidence that
