Dear Mr. Verne:

I am writing to confirm our conversation yesterday concerning the potential applicability of the Hart-Scott-Rodino Act to the facts outlined below. I would appreciate your confirmation that this letter accurately reflects our conversation and accurately concludes that under the facts described below HSR Act filings would not be required.

FACTS

There are four entities involved in the proposed re-organization.
S-LLC is owned 50% by Company A and 50% by Company B.
W-LLC is owned 50% by Company A and 50% by Company B.
U Partnership is owned 66 2/3% by Company A and 33 1/3% by Company C.
H-LLC is owned 60% by Company A and 40% by Company C.

The following steps will occur in the re-organization.

1. C buys 45% of S-LLC and W-LLC from Company B.
2. A buys 5% of S-LLC and W-LLC from Company B.
3. U Partnership converts into a LLC with the same ownership.
4. A and C form a new LLC.
5. A contributes its 55% interest in S-LLC and 66 2/3% interest in U-LLC

ANALYSIS

On these facts, you have advised that the formation of the new LLC is not subject to the HSR Act's filing requirements. The formation is not reportable because it will not involve the contribution of two or more previously "separately controlled" businesses to the LLC. [In this case, all of the business being contributed to the new LLC were controlled by A prior to the transaction.]

If the above description does not accurately reflect our conversations

Sincerely,
