| LLC,        | COMPLAINT  The Federal Trade Commission, having reason to believe that Forensics Consulting Solutions, a limited liability company, has violated the Federal Trade Commission Act ("FTC Act"), and it  |
|-------------|--|
|             | overy consulting firm.  4 this two ImpaiAchave been in or affecting  |
|             |  |
|             |  |
| 4.          | Respondent has set forth on its website, www.aboutfcs.com, privacy policy and statements about first preventicks a gine didipost tage the rus Selated to Est partial partition in the Safe-Hard Safe Hard Safe Safe Hard Safe Safe Hard Safe Safe Safe Hard Safe Safe Safe Safe Safe Safe Safe Safe  |
|             | The Safe Harbor Framework  |
|             | The U.SEU Safe Harbor Framework provides a method for U.S. companies to transfer personal dat D4(wrishe lative) bearing fs(qui) 4(tofit   Dithethe) 14(eU 22(u B) 24(eV) 2(u B) 24(u B) 22(u |
| outside the | EU, with exceptions, unless the European Commission ("EC") has made a  |
|             |  |
|             |  |

esempit: FPS-admy/*: its aucknesses to shaptopeer bosot cothetra Refer India Rain ridacor militarpeer and ther _____assessment procedures in place to ensure its compliance FCS-adjectes to the U.S. FUS Safe.

...

mmerce as being in full privacy statement, and will annually self certify with the US Department of C olicy. Any employee that FCS compliance. FCS will conduct compliance audits to verify adherence to this

Count 1

- 13. Through the means described in Paragraph 12, respondent represented, expressly or by implication, that it was a current participant in the U.S.-EU Safe Harbor Framework.
- 14. In truth and in fact, beginning in 2012, respondent was not a current participant in the U.S.-EU Safe Harbor Framework. Therefore