

1
2
3

1 deck, Qualcomm improperly seeks to insert the entire slide deck into this record. Moreover, the
2 single slide that Qualcomm’s reply brief cites is not responsive to any argument in the FTC’s or
3 amici’s briefs. Thus, the Court need not consider it. Z, 491 F.3d at 997. Nor has
4 Qualcomm authenticated the document that the slide purports to excerpt. Accordingly, Exhibit F
5 is stricken from the record.

6 Having reviewed the parties’ briefing on Qualcomm’s motion for stay pending appeal,
7 ECF Nos. 1495, 1500, 1506; amicus briefs in opposition to Qualcomm’s motion submitted by LG
8 Electronics, Inc. and ACT, the App Association, ECF Nos. 1501-1, 1503-2; the arguments and
9 evidence from the 11-day trial; the Court’s 233-page Findings of Fact and Conclusions of Law,
10 ECF No. 1490; the record in this case; and the relevant law, the Court hereby DENIES
11 Qualcomm’s motion for stay pending appeal.

12 IT IS SO ORDERED.

13 Dated: July 3, 2019

LUCY H. KOH
United States District Judge