depositions scheduled by Consistent Counsel and that under the Scheduling Order Defendant has until July 7, 2017 to complete its document production.

III.

On June 7, 2017, Defendant filed a Motion for a Later Evidentiary Hearing Date, seeking to reset the hearing date from September 19, 2017 to October 16, 2017. In support of the Motion, the parties recite the dispute that is the subject of the Motion, and state that they agreed to a fact discovery schedule. A motion for a later evidentiary hearing date is not a matter of course and is not to be granted unless the party moving for it shows good cause. The court has discretion to grant or deny a motion for a later evidentiary hearing date. The court has discretion to grant or deny a motion for a later evidentiary hearing date. The court has discretion to grant or deny a motion for a later evidentiary hearing date.
