

1917

of speaking. Their salaries are too low.

6. Let the broadcasting companies employ more and better judges for auditions to give new talent a better chance.

7. Let the broadcasting companies from being played every night in the week on every station, if not on every program.

11. Let famous conductors realize that they are best developing a taste for good music by arranging their programs to interest a growing public

REGULATION OF RADIO ADVERTISING

tersely, the Commission does not dic- agents who write, encourage, and place ate what he shall not say. publishers who continue to publish

[REDACTED]

may indicate what he shall not say. publishers who continue to publish

[REDACTED]

radio advertising is that the station or

A code of fair competition for the greater public service. If a station radio broadcasting industry was en— lends its facilities to the dissemination continuities. These are operated principally for educational or religious ina conclusion. Generally such questioning calls for formula-templates and

[The page contains several lines of text, but the content is almost entirely obscured by heavy black redaction bars. Only a few faint characters are visible, such as "21" on the second line and "22" on the first line of the header area.]