Office of the Secretary

requires Proposed Respondents to “[d]esign, implement, maintain, and document safeguards that control” for any risks to the “privacy, security, confidentiality, or integrity of Personal Information” that the II.D assessment identifies.

Your letter states the FTC could adopt a risk analysis framework articulated by the Sedona Conference to avoid “[s]elf-interested risk analysis” that ignores impacts to consumers. However, the provisions described above, and others in the Proposed Orders, require Proposed Respondents to assess risks of potential harm to consumers and to take action when such risks are identified.

Having considered all the facts of this case and the comments submitted in response to the Proposed Orders, the Commission has now determined that the public interest would best be served by issuing the Complaint and the Decisions and Orders in final form without any modifications. The final Decisions and Orders and other relevant materials are available from the Commission’s website at <http://www.ftc.gov>. The Commission thanks you again for your comment.

By direction of the Commission.

Sincerely,

April J. Tabor
Secretary
