1	DOHA MEKKI Acting Assistant Attorney General
2	JOHN W. ELIAS
3	Deputy Assistant Attorneys General B
4
5
6
7	ENJAMIN L. RUDOFSKY (NY Bar No. 5321005, DC Bar No. 29844)
8	ALICE A. WANG
9	Counsel to the Assist Attorney General ERIC D. DUNN (CSBN 312513)
10	Assistant Chief, Competition
11	U.S. Department of Justice, Antitrust Division
12	950 Pennsylvania Ave, N.W. Washington, DC 20530
13	Telephone: (202) 808-4260
	benjamin.rudofsky@usdoj.gov
14	Attorneys for the United States
15	Anisha Dasgupta
16	General Counsel
17	HENRY LIU Director, Bureau of Competition
18	Hannah Garden-Monheit
19	Director of theOffice of Policy Planning SHAOUL SUSSMAN
20	Associate Director for Litiation, Bureau of Competition KATHERINE VAN DYCK
21	Attorney-Advisor, Office of Policy Planning
22	Federal Trade Commission
23	600 Pennsylvania Avenue, NW
24	Washington, DC 20580
25	Attorneys for the Federal Trade Commission
26
27
28

STATEMENT OF INTEREST OF HE UNITED STATES Case No. 4:24-cv-04722-YGR

UNITED STATES DISTRICT COURT NORTHERN DISTRICT OF CALIFORNIA OAKLAND DIVISION

ELON MUSK, et al.

Plaintiffs,

٧.

SAMUEL ALTMAN, et al.,

Defendants.

Case No. 4:24-cv-04722-YGR

Hon. Yvonne Gonzalez Rogers
STATEMENT OF INTEREST OF

THE UNITED STATES AND FEDERAL TRADE COMMISSION

Date: January 14, 2025

Time: 2:00 p.m.

Place: Courtroom 1 (4th Floor)

1301 Clay St.

Oakland, CA 94612

TABLE OF CONTENTS

	Page
TABLE OF AUT	HORITIESLL
INTRODUCTION	N1
FACTUAL BACK	KGROUND	2
ARGUMENT	3
I. Se	ection 8's Bar on Intercking Directorates	3
Α.	Statutory Background	3
В.	Section 8 Claims Are Not Mooted by

1	United States v. Apple, Inc., 791 F.3d 290 (2d Cir. 2015)	11
2	United States v. Cleveland Tr. Ç892 F. Supp. 699 (N.D. Ohio 1974), aff5dl 3 F.2d 633 (6th Cir. 1975)
4	United States v. Concentrated Phosphate Export A393 U.S. 199 (1968)	, 6
5	United States v. Paramount Pictures 4 U.S. 131 (1948)	5
6	United States v. Sears, Roebuck & Col F. Supp. 614 (S.D.N.Y. 1953)	4
7	United States v. Socony-Vacuum Oil, 3d.0 U.S. 150, 224 n.59 (1940)	6
8	United States v. W. T. Grant Co., 345 U.S. 629 (1953)	4, 5
9	White v. R.M. Packer Co., 635 F.3d 571 (1st Cir. 2011)	 11
10	Statutes
11	15 U.S.C § 45 1
12	15 U.S.C. § 1)
13	15 U.S.C. § 191, 3
14	15 U.S.C. § 2
15	28 U.S.C. § 517 1
16	Cal. Bus. & Prof. Code § 172001
17	Administrative Decisions
18	In re Kraftco Corp, 89 F.T.C. 46, 1977 WL 188540 (Jan. 11, 1977)	9
19 20	In re Perpetual Fed. Sav & Loan Assœ F.T.C. 608 (1977), rem'd on other grounds, No. 78-1134 (4th Cir. 1978)grder withdrawn 94 F.T.C. 401 (1979)	9
21	United Auto Workers Advisory Opini, P.T.C. 933 (May 1, 1981)	6
22	Other Authorities
23	In re EQT Corp, File No. 221-0212, Stmt. of Chair Lina M. Khan Joined by Comm'r
24	ll l
25	Policy Statement Regarding the Scope of Unifice thods of Competition Under Section 5 of the Federal Trade Commission Act, File No. P221202 (F.T.C. Nov. 10, 2022)	8
26
27
28

INTRODUCTION

The United States, through the U.S. Departmoteral ustice, joined by the Federal Trade Commission ("FTC"), respectfully submits this ment of Interest pursuant to 28 U.S.C. § 517. The Antitrust Division of the U.S. Department Justice and the FTC (collectively, the "Agencies") enforce the federal antitrust laws cluding the prohibition against interlocking directorates in Section 8 of tTc -0.Rcking m1.0tTw 2u0 c6 10.193 7ratS0. Department 28 claim under Section 8 is month (2) a company violates (Sien 8 by appointing a natural person to serve on the board of a competing pranty. This statement also explains how interlocking board membear rangements can undermine fatimpetition and therefore violate the FTC Act and, by extension, California's UCE in ally, this statement discusses the legal standard for when group boycottas run afoul of Section 1.

1 | 2 | 3 | 4 | 5

The Agencies take no position on any other essuthis case, including the facts alleged by Plaintiffs.

FACTUAL BACKGROUND

The First Amended Complaint, ECF Ne2, alleges that "Artificial General Intelligence," i.e., "a machine having intelligence a wide variety of tasks like a human," poses certain risks. Am. Compl. ¶¶ 4, 74-75.address these risks laintiff Musk helped establish OpenAI in 2015. Am. Compl. ¶ 88 hat same year, OpenAI incorporated as a "nonprofit corporation" committed to the "resrch, development and but but ion of technology related to artificial intelligence." Am. Compl. ¶ 89.

The First Amended Complaint further alleges that (1) defendant Reid Hoffman simultaneously served on OpenAl's and Microsoft's boards of directors from March 2017 to March 2023, and (2) defendant Deah Templeton simultaneously rved as Vice President of Partnerships and Operations in the Technology esearch division althicrosoft and as a non-voting member of OpenAl's board of ditters from November 2023 until July 2024. Am. Compl. ¶¶ 163, 371; ee also id¶¶ 168, 331(m), 374.

Based on these allegations, and others, Plaintiffs bring 26 separate claims including breach of contract, fraud, false advertisiting ach of fiduciary duty, and claims under the Racketeer Influenced and Corruptganizations Act. Plaintiffalso allege Defendants violated the Sherman and Clayton Acts based in partometric affecting the mark for "generative Al models and platforms." Am. Compl. ¶ 204.

On November 29, 2024, Plaintiffs filed a Moonti for a Preliminary Injunction seeking to enjoin Defendants from, among otherings, "directly or indirectly undertaking any action for the purpose of or tending to hather effect of, interlocking directorates or benefitting from for the coordination of businessecisions by competitors and..the exchange of commercially sensitive information by competitors square D Co. v. Schneider S. 760 F. Supp. 362, 366 (S.D.N.Y. 1991). Such conduct can facilitate earsonable restraints of trade in violation of Section 1 of the Sherman Act (15 U.S.C. § 1) elip a monopolist matain and entrench its power in violation of Section 2 of the Sherman Act (15 U.S.§.2). In this way, Section 8 supports and reinforces the federal antitrust laws more gene early United States v. Sears, Roebuck & Co 111 F. Supp. 614, 616 (S.D.N.Y. 1953) ("Searc 8 was but one of a series of measures which finally emerged as the ClayAct, all intended testrengthen the Sherman Act.").

Courts have consistently interpreted & Parc 8 in view of these "prophylactic and remedial purposes. Square D Co. v. Schneider S. 760 F. Supp. 362, 366 (S.D.N.Y. 1991). For example, the Ninth Circuit has held that bishing a Section 8 oriation does not require "proof that the interlock has an actual anticompetitive effect W, 647 F.2d at 946–47 (citing Protectoseal Co. v. Barancik, 484 F.2d 585, 589 (7th Cir. 1973) (Stevens, J.)). "On the contrary, the statute reflects a public interest in parting directors from serving in positions which involve either a potential colinate of interest or a potential fustration of competition."

Protectoseal 484 F.2d at 589. Likewise, courts have reduseread the statute so rigidly that a company can evade Section 8 liat hithrough tactics that elevate form over substance, e.g., "by calling its agents on the competitors' board somethouther than either offers or directors."

Square 760 F. Supp. at 36 Reading 317 F. Supp. 2d at 327–28 (rejectreading of Section 8 that would "elevate form over substance" and render the statue "a formalism").

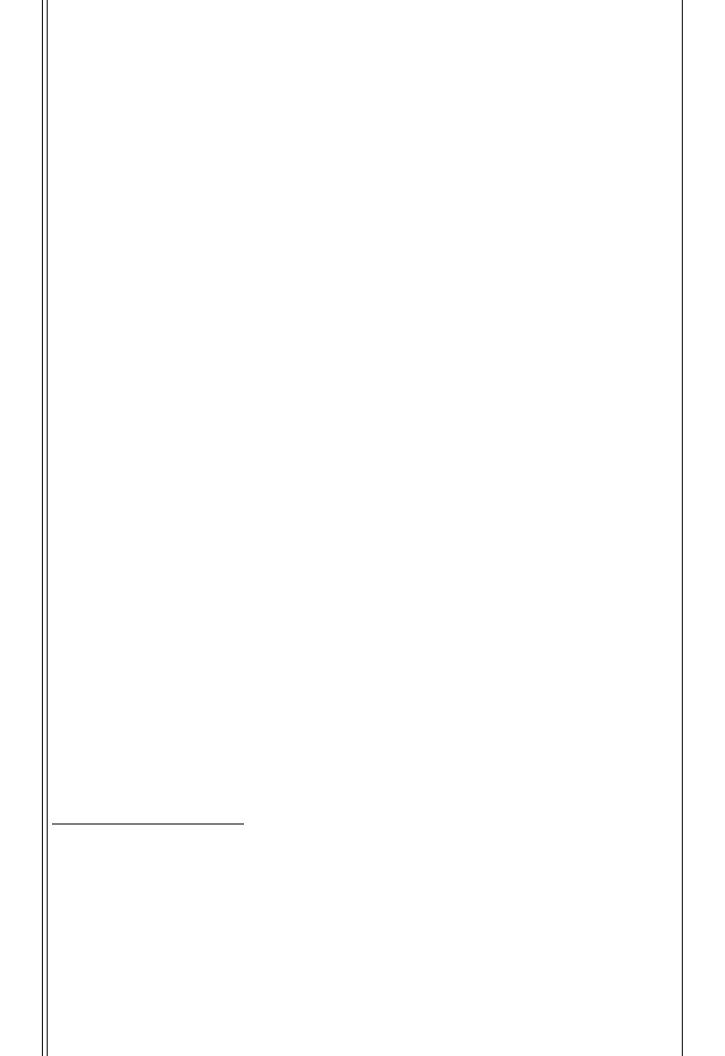

B. Section 8 Claims Are Not Mooted by Simply Unwinding an Interlock

Defendants argue "there is no live 'case ontooversy" here because "neither Hoffman nor Templeton is currently affiliated with Opter's board in any capacity ECF No. 64 at 13.

Bot rsufilcintl,

"[A]s a general rule, 'voluntar cessation of allegedly illegeonduct does not deprive the tribunal of power to hear and determine tase, i.e., does not mathe case moot."Cty. of Los Angeles v. Davis, 440 U.S. 625, 631 (1979). Otherwised feel ndant [would be] free to return to his old ways," and that, "together with a publiterest in having the legality of the [disputed] practices settled, militates aigst a mootnessonclusion." United States v. W. T. Grant Co., 345 U.S. 629, 632 (1953). Thus, where a defendant value to the conduct, it still bears a "heavy burden" to demonstrateist "absolutely cleathat the allegedly wangful behavior could not reasonably be expected to recult RW, 647 F.2d at 953 (quoting nited States v. Concentrated Phosphate Export Ass'n, 393 U.S. 199, 203 (1968)). Additionally, the relevant concern is with repeated violatis of the same law, and not meneith repetition of the same offensive conduct."ld.

2

3

4

5

6

7

8

9

10

11

12

13

14

15

16

17

18

19

20

21

22

23

24

25

26

27

28

against unfair methods of competition for guida on how to interpret California's UCISee, e.g., Cel-Tech Commc'ns, 20 Cal. 4th at 185 (citations om (ttend) view of the similarity of language and obvious identity of pose of the two statutes, deoiss of the federal court on the subject are more thandinarily persuasive.") Epic Games v. Apple, 67 F.4th 946, 1000–1002 (9th Cir. 2023) (discussing the relationship between state unfair competition claims and federal antitrust claims). "The standard of 'unfairs under the FTC Act is, by necessity, an elusive one, encompassing not only practices that viscollate Sherman Act and the other antitrust laws, but also practices that the Commission determines against public policy for other reasons. Fed. Trade Comm'n v. Amazon.com, Jinto. 2:23-cv-01495-JHC, 2024 WL 4448815, at *13 (W.D. Wash. Sept. 30, 2024) (quotified. Trade Comm'n v. Indiana Fed'n of Dentists 6 U.S. 447, 454 (1986))See also Policy Statement Regardinget Scope of Unfair Methods of Competition Under Section 5 of the Federalde Commission Act, File No. P221202, at 1 (F.T.C. Nov. 10, 2022) ("Section 5 reaches beythredSherman and Clayton Acts to encompass various types of unfair conduct that tenchtegatively affect competitive conditions.") (collecting cases). The Supreme Court has stated the FTC Act's probition on unfair methods of competition was "designed to supplement and the Sherman Act and Clayton Act . . .

The Supreme Court has stated the FTC Act's probation on unfair methods of competition was "designed to supplement and the Sherman Act and Clayton Act . . . to stop in their incipiency acts and practice solve when full blown, would violate [the Sherman Act and the Clayton Act] Fed. Trade Comm'n v. Motion Picture Advertising Service Co. 344 U.S. 392, 394–95 (1953) (internal citations omitted); also Ethyl, 729 F.2d at 136–37 (the FTC Act empowers the FTC "to bar incipient violations of step statutes, and conduct which, although not a violation of the entitrust laws, is close to a violation or is contrary to their spirit") (cleaned up) Fed. Trade Comm'n v. Texaco, In 693 U.S. 223, 225 (1968) (same).

The Supreme Court has likese long recognized that the FTC "has broad powers to declare trade practices unfair Fed. Trade Comm'n v. Sperry & Hutchinson Cto U.S. 233, 242 (1972) (quoting Fed. Trade Comm'n v. Brown Shoe 324. U.S. 316, 320–321 (1966)). In 1977, the FTC concluded that certain interlocks not "escape liability hrough the allegedly porous wording of Section 8. Ih re Kraftco Corp, 89 F.T.C. 46, 1977 WL 188540, at *13 (Jan.

11, 1977); see also In re Perpetual Fed. Sav & Loan Assett. F.T.C. 608, 653 (1977), remanded on other grounds, No. 78-1134 (4th Cir. 1978), order withdrawn, 94 F.T.C. 401 (1979) ("Congress enacted the Clayton Act thred Federal Trade Commission Act in response to the perceived shortcomings of the Sherman Acctinterpreted by theourts, in abating what were seen as unhealthy concentrations of ecionand political power. One of the practices which was singled out for particular concern where interlocking directorate. This concern was highlighted in Congressional repair"). It pointed out that this tatute's legislative history suggests that "Congress specifically ntemplated the application Section 5 to interlocking directorates." Id.4

In light of the foregoing, the ourt may consider under the proscriptions of California's UCL whether the alleged conductors intrary to Section 5 of the TC Act, e.g., by facilitating the exchange of confidential, competitive lignificantly information between rivals See Cel-Tech Commo'ns 20 Cal. 4th at 185–86 (looking to Section 5 jurisprudence that "the word "unfair" in [the California UCL] means conduct that threaten incipient violation of an antitrust law, or violate the policy or spirit of one of those laws © rand Union Co. v. FTC, 300 F.2d 92 (2d Cir. 1962) (allowing expension of the Clayton Act from certain "technical confines" to realize a assic policy" underlying the Act) Epic Games 67 F.4th at Indeed, the Senate Interstate Commerce Commented that it "was of the opinion that it would be better to put in a genale provision condemning unfair propertition than to attempt to define the numerous unfair practices, sash.. interlocking dectorates and holding companies intended to restrain bstantial competition in re Kraftco Corp., 1977 WL 188540, at *13 (cleaned up) see also Perpetual Fed. Sav & Loan Asson F.T.C. at 655 (discussing legislative history and finding "clear that Congress contendated interlocks among the practices comprehended by contends to the following services are supported by the following services are supported

⁴ More recently, the Commission observed, at optical consent decree settling charges of interlocking directorates violing Section 8, that the appointment of a board observer or designee in a rival firm raises concerns that

3 4

5 6

7 8

9

11

12

1314

15

16

17

18 19

20

21

2223

2425

26

27

28

1000 ("a business practice may befair," and therefore illegal under the UCL, 'even if not specifically proscribed by some other law") (quotingl-Tec Commc'n, 20 Cal. 4th at 180).

III. Group Boycotts Under Section 1

Plaintiffs seek to enjoin applied "fund-no-competitors" end, which they unify under a group boycott theory of autitust, in violation of Section 1 of the Sherman Act. The Agencies take no position on the alleged factut file this statement in order to clarify the proper legal analysis for group boycotts Section 1 of the Sherman to "[e]very contract, combination in the form of trust or otherwise, conspiracy, in restraint offade." 15 U.S.C. § 1 A claim under Section 1 thereforequires two key elements) (*a contract, combination, or conspiracy"—i.e., "concerted action"— (12) at "unreasonably restrains tradeAm. Needle, Incl. v. Nat'l Football League560 U.S. 183, 186 (2010). Concerted action can be unreasonable in one of two ways. Ohio v. Am. Express Co., 585 U.S. 529, 540 (20 F8)st, it may be unreasonable per se, without anyther inquiry into its competitive effects jourstifications, because of its inherently anticompetitive "nature and charactaridaded Oil Co. of New Jersey v. United States 21 U.S. 1, 64 (1911). Typically, only thizontal restraints, i.e., concerted action between actual or potentiahopoetitors, are per se unlawfuAm. Express585 U.S. at 541. Second, a restraint may be unreasonableruthee rule of reason, a "fact-specific assessment" of challenged conduct's "effect on competition. (internal quotation marks omitted). Group boycotts involving competing fisman properly be analyzed under the per se rule. See Honey Bum, LLC v. Fashion Nova,, 168. F.4th 813, 820-21 (9th Cir. 2023).

The litigants disagree about whether theged fund-no-competitoredict is horizontal or vertical. This distinction does not preclude tippetion of Section 1. Without commenting on the facts as alleged, a group boycott can be be a spect; and per se liability under Section 1 can attach so long as there is also rizontal element to thalleged conspiracy See NYNEX Corp. v. Discon, Inc525 U.S. 128, 136 (1998) (surveying precedent and distinguishing purely vertical agreement between supplier and customerdases also involving a horizontal agreement among competitors). Indeed, "[t]he horizontal agreemeaxisaeither among the initiators of the boycott (as in Fashion Originat) or those pressured into joining (as in Ksskus2ed per se 20

⁵ The operative complaint and preliminar juinction motion rais equestions about the relationship between OpenAI and Microsoft, nay we hether it constitutes a form of prohibited coordinated conduct under the Sherman Acather, natively, may be characterized as "an unregulated merger." The characterization of the relationship been the entities for antitrust purposes is a factual inquiry on which there no position at this time.

⁶ To the extent Defendants dispute the existent concerted action i, a group boycott against OpenAI's rivals, the Court would rif it required Plaintiffs to stablish the existence of a

1 U.S. at 210 (rejecting the argument that there is induction of Section 1 "unless the 2 opportunities for customers to binya competitive market areduced" because then "a group 3 of powerful businessmen may actooncert to deprive a single note and . . . of the goods he 4 needs to compete effectively"). 5 CONCLUSION 6 For the foregoing reasons, the court should dide Plaintiffs' Motion for a Preliminary 7 Injunction, ECF No. 46, consiste with the legal principle above regarding Section 8, 8 California's Unfair Competition Lawand group boycotts under Section 1. 9 10 Respectfully submitted, 11 12 ANISHA DASGUPTA DOHA MEKKI General Counde Acting Assistant AttorneGeneral 13 HANNAH GARDEN-MONHEIT JOHN W. ELIAS 14 Director, Office of Policy Planning Deputy Assistant Attorne General 15 HENRY LIU DAVID B. LAWRENCE 16 Director, Bureau 6 Competition Policy Director 17 SHAOUL SUSSMAN RYAN DANKS 18 Associate Director, Bureauf Competition Director of Civil En 19 20 21 22 23 24 25 26 27 28