U.S. Federal Trade Commission Technology Task Force Technology Fellow Opportunity

The Federal Trade Commission (FTC) recently ated a Technology Task Force (TTF) dedicated to monitoring competition in U.Schnology markets, investigating any potential anticompetitive conduct in those markets, anking enforcement actions when warranted. The task force will focus on complex technology-drivemoduct and service markets and ecosystems, including markets for online advising, social networking, mole operating systems and apps, software, and online platforms. The task force has drawn experienced attorneys from throughout the agency who are working closely with economists from the FTC's Bureau of Economics. The task force is now seeking to augment therefore bringing on board a Technology Fellow to provide technical assistance and expertise to stujtpoinvestigations and enforcement actions.

The Technology Fellow will have a number of responsibilities relating to the task force's core mission of monitoring technology marked and enforces a8the anttrust la dynamic field—be able to adapt quickly to ches in technologies. Advanced degrees in computer science or related disciplines will be helpful but are not required. A successful candidate could be an experised software, process, or privacy engineer, product manager, executive, or academic computer scientist.

Ultimately, the TTF is looking for someone drivenusse his or her expertise to help ensure that competitive technological innovation can continue experii consumers. If that sounds like you, we would love to hear from you.

The Tech Fellow will serve for one year, withe potential for a one-year extension, in the FTC's Washington, DC, officesCompensation commensurate with experience. Please contact Daria Kun at (202) 326-3545 if you are questions about this opportunity. If you are interested in this opportunity, please einha resume and cover letter BCRecruit@ftc.goywith the subject line "TTF TechFellow," by August 30, 2019.